

Sandra Dodson

Sandra is a business consultant and trainer with over 12 years' experience in both the public and private sectors.

After completing a degree in History, she worked for Marks and Spencer for 16 years. Her final position was as Head of Personnel at the flagship store in Marble Arch.

Utilising her human resources experience, Sandra has worked for a wide range of consultancies and has represented Moffat McEwan Associates as a consultant and trainer for 10 years.

During this period she has specialised in the health sector in both general and primary care and has delivered in-house training and consultancy to a wide range of Primary Care Practices in business planning, identifying training and development needs, the development of appraisal processes, and performance management. She continues to deliver training and consultancy in these areas for fresh Medical.

Sandra was, until recently, Vice Chair of her local hospital trust with responsibility for strategic development and operational achievement. As a non-executive Director, she was the Chair of the Audit Committee and the non-executive member on the project board for Agenda for Change and the Improving Working Lives Group. She is also Chair of Governors at a large comprehensive school.

Sandra works with fresh Legal and fresh Consultancy, combining the design and delivery of a range of business training programmes with in-house consultancy in human resources and the development of competency frameworks.